

Core Values

Principles Upon Which the Ministry Is Based ~

- Unchangeable
- Determine the form and the flow of ministry
- Determine what is negotiable and what is not
- Help people identify their call
- Are the basis for reproducibility

1. Everything we do must point people to the Lordship of Jesus.

- Truth of the Word leads people to the One who is Truth
- We must deepen people's relationship with Jesus, not make them dependent on us
- See people and situations through eyes of faith

2. Powerhouse homes flow in the power of the Holy Spirit.

- After believers are born-again, there is a second, distinct experience in which the Holy Spirit empowers believers (Acts 1:8)
- The power of the Holy Spirit changes the believer from within (Fruit of the Spirit) and flows out through the believer (Gifts of the Spirit)
- Lasting change comes spiritually, not intellectually

3. Marriage is a covenant relationship.

- It reflects the covenant relationship between Jesus and the Church
- Each covenant partner agrees to be faithful no matter what the other one does
- It is unconditional
- It is until death

4. Marriage between a man and a woman is the basis for God's plan for family.

- God intends for family to produce healthy sons and daughters in the image of their Father
- All aspects of family life flow from and relate back to the marriage relationship
- Addressing family issues must include developing a healthy marriage

5. We are to make disciples of all nations.

- Discipling is more than disseminating information
- Discipling includes training, modeling and accountability
 - modeling is a transparent demonstration of process rather than perfection in the lives of the disciples
- Discipling is based in relationship

6. We are to produce fruit with the seed of reproducibility.

- We are all to bear fruit and multiply
- Our role in the earth is to give to others what God gives to us
- Although gifts and talents of people vary, others must be able to duplicate each model produced
- Everyone who ministers in 2=1 should be making disciples at the same time

7. When a couple marries, their individual call and destiny are blended together.

- Both husband and wife are equally called of God
- We are responsible to seek out those who will disciple us in our call
- Each spouse needs to respect, honor, and nurture the gifts and talents of the other
- Couples need to be taught how to blend their gifts and talents to equip them in the synergism of a one-flesh team

8. Homes are points of out-reach to a lost world.

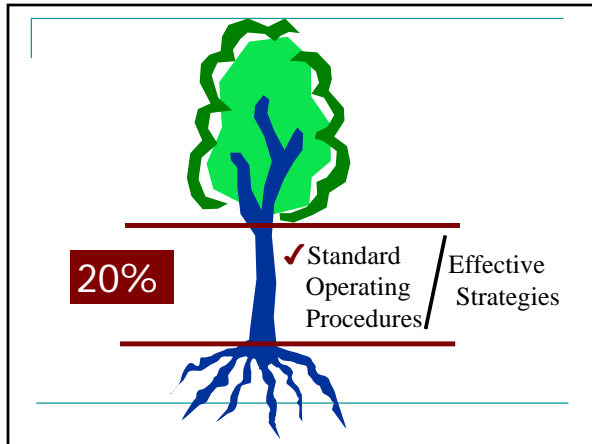

- Marriage and family reflect God's relationship to His Church
- 2=1 leaders are ordinary couples demonstrating the power of God in our homes, jobs, and lives
- We are to teach couples how to reach their neighborhoods, communities, and other spheres of influence

9. God views families generationally.

- Decisions and actions of one generation affect successive ones
- One generation has the power in Jesus to stop generational curses
- One generation has the ability to perpetuate blessings generationally
- Christians must think and plan generationally

10. We are an army.

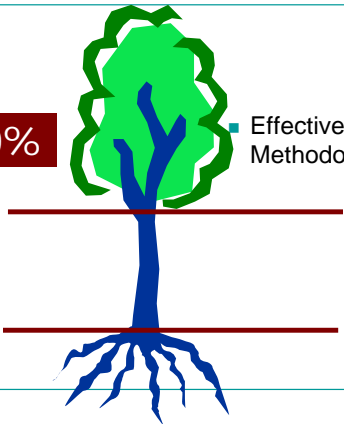

- We have an objective and a mission
- We need to honor spiritual authority to be in spiritual authority
- We need to recognize and honor the different roles of those serving in the army
- We must be dedicated to fighting until we see victory manifested
- We are not individual soldiers who get to pick and choose with whom, when and where we will serve
